Mission Statement:

We are people of God under the patronage of Saint Peter the Apostle and are called to be active followers of Jesus Christ. As members of the Body of Christ on earth, we gather for worship around the word of God and celebration of the Eucharist. We commit ourselves to each other in Faith, in Hope, and in Love. We, as an adult family of believers, are uniquely positioned in this time of our life with the time, talent and energy to bring the message of Jesus to our Community with the help of the Holy Spirit through testimony, example, hospitality and service.

Study of the Readings

Focusing the Gospel

Key words & phrases:

new commandment, Son of Man glorified, God is glorified, As I have loved you ... love one another

To the point:

Jesus' new commandment is "As I have loved you, so you also should love one another." The nature of our love as disciples is specific, singular, incomparable: we are to love to the extent and in the manner Jesus loved. Our love is to be the self-sacrificing love of Jesus. It is this kind of love which brings Jesus glory. It is this kind of love which enables us to share in that same glory.

Connecting the Gospel ...

... to the Second Reading:

When we live Jesus' new commandment of love, the results are dramatic: "a new heaven and a new earth," "new Jerusalem," indeed, "all things new".

... to experience:

We are keen on underscoring obligation—we must "love one another." This is only possible because of the power and grace which come from our first being loved by God.

What does "glory" look like? Is it a triumphant general after a decisive victory? Or the MVP after a championship-winning performance? In today's Gospel, which takes place during the Last Supper, Jesus suggests that God's glory looks a little different: it looks like someone offering themselves so another can have life. This is, after all, what Jesus will do shortly after the Last Supper, when he offers His life on the cross for all mankind. This, he tells us, is how God is glorified. And he makes the point even more clear when he tells those present that having love for one another is the truest sign that they are his disciples, that they are partaking in His glory. So what does it look like for us to participate in God's glory? It means giving of ourselves at home, to our spouse and children, friends and family. It means giving of ourselves in our local community, volunteering and serving others. And it also means offering ourselves to build up our local Church. One important way we can do this right now is by supporting our Annual Diocesan Appeal. Ask God how you can glorify Him through your contribution, and give today.
